Welcome!

We are inviting programs and exhibitors from a wide variety of professional health careers and interest areas.

Through this event our goal is to support future health professionals and provide information and resources to help them successfully reach their goals.

As a university, program, or exhibitor participant, you will be able to:

- Engage with students currently exploring a career in healthcare by sharing available opportunities as they navigate their professional path.
- Expand your reach - our office serves and communicates with thousands of pre-health students through our various platforms including our website, social media accounts, emails, and internal announcement listservs.
- Leave an imprint of your program- Giveaway items with your logo are always appreciated and remembered by attendees, especially those received at these events. The memories of the event are often recalled as they prepare for their journey.
